NAATI CCL Test

- The Credentialed Community Language (CCL) test determines a candidate's ability to convey the meaning of a conversation from English language to LOTE (Language Other Than English) and vice versa.
- It is an in-class test where you will be tested one on one and your test answers will be recorded with the microphone for correction.
- On passing CCL Test, a candidate is awarded five bonus points also known as Credentialed Community Language points, a criterion on point test for Australia immigration visa application.
- Due to unusual circumstances, the NAATI CCL test is currently taken online. You need to create a proper exam set up at your home following the guidelines approved by NAATI. However, the test structure is the same and so is the assessment.
- The CCL test is completely separate to NAATI certification and cannot be considered as a NAATI credential. You cannot work officially as an Interpreter or Translator. NAATI introduced this test for the candidates who are seeking for 5 points.

Value of CCL Test

- This test is ideal for people who are looking for the crucial 5 more points to get their invitation for 189, 190 and 489.
- It is much easier to crack NAATI's CCL test than its previous exams because of low difficulty level.
- There are no prerequisites like proving English proficiency by appearing in exams such as IELTS, PTE etc.
- Easy way to get five points by appearing in a single exam (No requirement of Intercultural and Ethical competency testing which is part of other NAATI tests)

Demand for the Test

- NAATI conducts CCL tests periodically. You have to be very vigilant about the dates as the dates are not readily available. It's first come first serve based.
- There is no limit for the number of times to appear for a NAATI CCL test.

Test Description

The NAATI CCL test involves two dialogue tasks delivered through recorded materials. You will be listening to recordings of alternating segments of a conversation between an English speaker and a Language Other Than English (LOTE) speaker. The CCL test assesses the candidate's ability to comprehend source utterances (in English or the LOTE) and reproduce them in the target language with a reasonable level of accuracy and following the linguistic norms and conventions of both languages.

The test dialogues will require meaning transfer skills in both language directions and each of the dialogues will be from different topic.

The duration of the test is 20 minutes. Additional 15 minutes are given to read exam instructions.

How is the CCL Test taken?

- The candidate activates each recording by themselves.
- A chime will be heard 5 seconds after the end of each segment.
- The candidate starts interpreting the segment after the chime.
- The response is recorded.
- Candidate activates the recording to play the next segment.

This process repeats till the candidate completes the test.

Test Topics

The dialogues featured in the test contains day-to-day topics which typically form a part of daily life in Australian society. The number of topics covered in the NAATI Test are limited and the routine topics covered in test dialogues are

- Health
- Legal
- Consumer Affairs
- Education
- Housing
- Financial
- Employment
- Immigration/Settlement
- Social Services
- Insurance
- Business
- Community

How are CCL test marked?

- CCL tests are marked independently by at least two trained examiners.
- Each examiner will consider whether any significant distortions of meaning, omissions or insertions are present.
- Clarity of language and register are also considered, particularly where this impacts on the effectiveness of meaning transfer.
- The opinion of each examiner is taken into account in determining whether the candidate is successful. In situations where the examiners disagree about the performance of the candidate additional examiners will be involved in determining the final result.

Marking, Assessment and Re-evaluation of the test

The candidate is marked on Language Quality and Language Register. This implies the client's ability to use appropriate grammar, pronunciation, vocabulary and register in English and Language Other Than English (LOTE).

Assessment of the test is done by two examiners individually and the final score is marked.

If the candidate applies for revaluation of his/her result, he/she will not be eligible for a new application until the revaluation outcome is released. An applicant can fill in the revaluation application from his NAATI account at the mentioned fee and not more than 30 days from the day the test result was issued.

CCL candidates must be able to:

participate effectively in exchanges where relatively simple information is exchanged without any great deviation from the norms of pronunciation, with reasonable accuracy, standard of expression, style and register; and give the sense of what is said by the speakers and demonstrate good quality language in both English and the LOTE.

Errors for which the examiners deduct a candidate's score are:

- Accuracy (correctness of information)
- Distortions (misrepresentation of information)
- Omissions (removal of information)
- Insertions (addition of information)

Opinions of both examiners are considered in determining whether the candidate has passed the NAATI CCL Test or not. In case, if one of the examiners disagree regarding the performance of the candidate, additional examiners get involved in finalizing the result.

Criteria to pass

CCL Test comprises of two dialogues; each worth 45 marks. In order to pass the test, a candidate requires at least 29 marks in each dialogue and an overall score of 63 out of 90.

The result for the CCL Test will be given as:

- PASS: 63 or higher (marks out of 90)
- MARGINAL FAIL: Between 58 and 62.5
- CLEAR FAIL: Less than 58 marks

In situations where a candidate achieves 23 out of 45 in Dialogue 1, 41 out of 45 in Dialogue 2 and an Overall Score of 64 out of 90, the result given will be CLEAR FAIL as the candidate hasn't achieved required score in Dialogue 1 (i.e. 29).

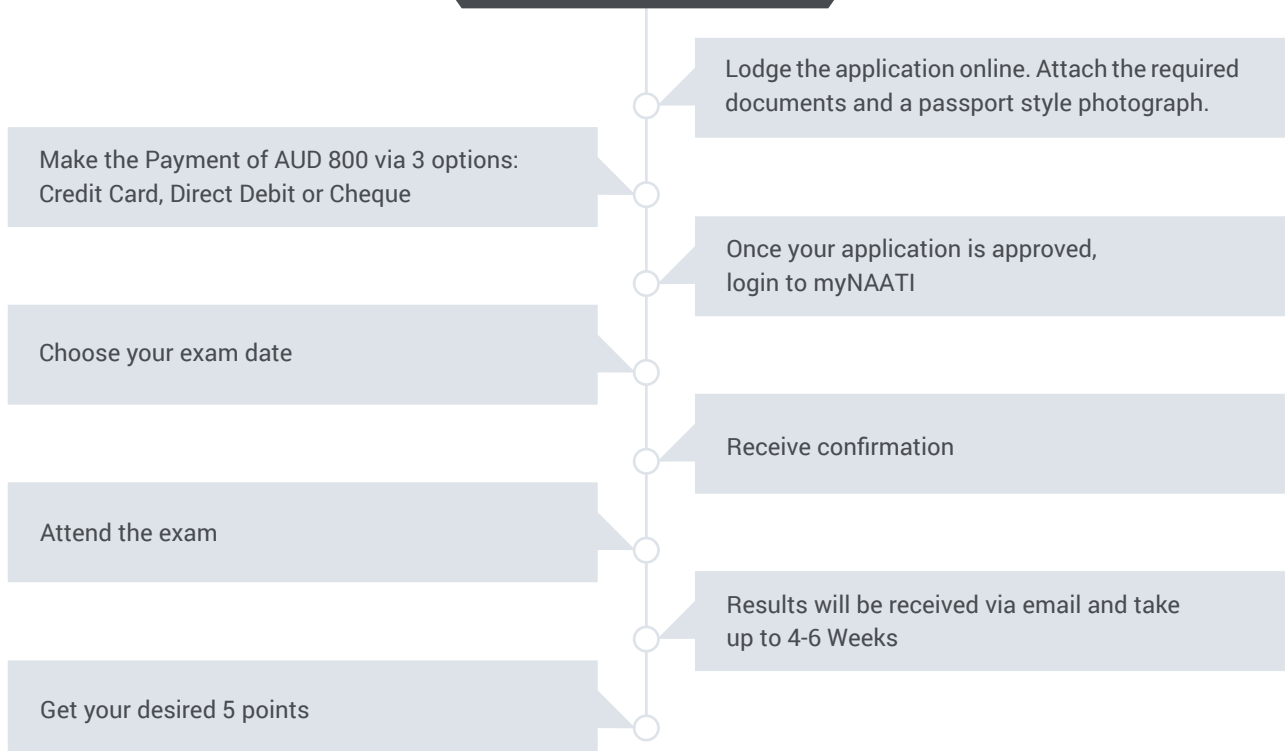

(Source: <https://www.naati.com.au/MyNaati/Apply>)

When can you expect your results?

Results come out within 4-6 Weeks starting from the test date. NAATI CCL results are valid for 3 years from the date of issue.

Timeframe for a CCL candidate

Test rules Do's and Don'ts

- In order to be admitted to the test session, candidates will need to provide proof of their identity (i.e. the photo ID provided with your application – normally passport).
- All students will be required to complete the system check 48 hours prior to the test following the instructions shared by Proctor Exam via e-mail. This email is shared approximately one week prior to the test day.
- Once completed, you will receive an email with the test link. In case you haven't, do reach out to NAATI Officials.
- The test duration is 20 minutes and candidates will be given extra 15 minutes to read the test instructions. Candidates are required to be online at the advised time. Latecomers won't be tested.
- Prior to the test, candidates need to show their proof of identity to the camera. If there is any doubt about your identity the test will not be issued.
- You would require Google products during the test so ensure you have access to and also install the latest version of the Google Chrome browser.
- Due to security requirements, you ain't permitted to pause the test or leave the test environment once it has started.
- Once your test is over, you must leave the test venue and are not permitted to return for the remainder of that day.

Test supervision

- Test video and audio are recorded. Suspicious behaviour by candidates will be flagged and might need clarifications.
- Breach of defined test conditions will result in the cancellation of the test.
- For technical support during the test, a chat option, a dedicated call line and an emailing option are available.

Specific instructions for candidates

Equipment allowed

- A blank pen and paper are allowed.
- Huawei P30, Google Pixel 3, Sony Xperia, iPhone 6, and OnePlus mobiles cannot be used as the second camera.
- Tablet and phones aren't supported, candidate must use computer or laptop for test-taking.
- Bluetooth and wireless headsets are not recommended.
- If you use a public WIFI network, it is possible that access to the test will be restricted.

Repeats policy (Lifeline)

You may repeat any segment prior to starting the interpretation. In such instances, the entire segment is repeated. The first repetition in each dialogue can be requested without penalty; however more than one request for repetition can be penalized by the examiner.

So be careful while using the repeat lifeline and try to avoid penalties.

Clarifications, repeats, pauses and corrections

- Lengthy pauses and repeated reworking of segments will be viewed as distracting from the dynamics of the test task.
- If you realize during the test that you have made an error, you are permitted to insert a correction of that part before continuing.
- Use (Sorry I'll just say that part again) as a preface when you want to speak the dialogue correctly.

Get "CCL coaching in your pocket" with all of the above features through Aussizz CCL app

Other important tips

- Choose a LOTE (Language Other than English) you are confident about that you can understand and speak it well. You don't need to know how to write or read that language, only conversation is part of this test.
- Try and practice the LOTE every day till your test day arrives.
- Record passages from radio and television and repeat those sentences. This will help you to get the right pronunciation and also enhance your vocabulary.
- Take your peers' help and ask them to read a sentence from a passage and you can translate it in your LOTE. Make sure you record those answers. It will help you understand better.
- Go to government departments and pick up literature in both English and your LOTE. View them critically and try to learn as much terminology as possible.

SAMPLE PRACTICE DIALOGUES

You will hear two dialogues picked from a conversation between an English speaker and a LOTE (Language other than English) speaker. You are required to interpret into the other language what each speaker says. As soon as each speaker finishes a segment you will hear this sound (chime). You may take notes if you wish and should begin interpreting only a few seconds after the sound.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

1 What documents do I require while lodging an application online?

You need a scanned colored copy of your original passport without any attestation. You also need a passport style photograph which should not be more than six months old.

2 What is the complete duration of the test?

The test duration is a maximum of 20 minutes.

3 What is the format of NAATI CCL Test?

The test has two dialogue recordings, each of 300 words, which is divided into segments of 35 words each. Dialogues are from the conversation between an English speaker and a LOTE Speaker. The test taker interprets and translates the segments from one language (spoken) to another and response of the test taker is recorded.

4 How is the NAATI CCL Test marking done?

Each of the two dialogues is worth 45 marks. A candidate must achieve a minimum of 29 marks in each dialogue and in total 63 marks out of 90 to pass the test. Less than 29 in either dialogue would be marked as a clear fail.

- Clear Fail- less than 58 marks
- Marginal fail – between 58 and 62.5 marks
- Pass- 63 marks or above

5 How to apply/ register for the NAATI CCL Test?

It's a very short process:

- Register yourself in myNAATI Portal and submit the application with all details.
- Once you receive an email confirmation from NAATI, Select the date and make payment.

6 How long NAATI takes to provide the test result?

Naati takes 4-6 weeks to send the results. Results are sent via email.

7 What topics are covered in the NAATI CCL Test?

Business, Employment, Consumer affairs, Legal, Community, Education, financial, health, Immigration, Social Services, and Housing are the most common topics.

8 Can I change the LOTE after registration?

Candidates can change the LOTE at zero cost if the test date is more than a week away. 100% penalty would be there if the candidate changes the LOTE within 7 days from the test date.

9 Is there any word limitation for the answer?

There is no word limit but you need to keep the answer as similar as the dialogue. You cannot add extra information or skip any information given in the dialogue.

10 For how long is the NAATI CCL Test result valid?

NAATI CCL result is valid for three years from the issued date.

11 Can I apply for another test immediately, if I am not happy with my test?

You have to wait for your result to apply for another test. NAATI doesn't allow to lodge a new application till the time results are declared for the test by NAATI. You may also apply for a reevaluation.

12 Is it possible to reschedule the test? And how?

Yes, only if the test date is after more than 7 days.

To reschedule, the first scheduled session must be rejected and a new slot needs to be booked as per the availability.

13 How many days NAATI gives to make the payment for the application?

After making an application online, NAATI sends an email and gives 7 days to make the payment.

14 Where can I contact NAATI if I have any issues?

Candidates can contact NAATI on their official email address: info@naati.com.au in case of any queries related to fees, payment, material, test date, exam etc.
